
Alzheimer's Nightmare Spurs Comedy Fundraiser to Help Caregivers

By 25, Lauren Miller had already lost two grandparents to Alzheimer's and witnessed her mother's early onset at just 55 years old. Watch Lauren's recent talk about her family history with this brutal disease and the foundation she created, Hilarity for Charity, with husband Seth Rogen, aims to raise awareness about Alzheimer's among young adults and to support those who are going through it.

Source URL: <http://www.cirm.ca.gov/our-progress/video/alzheimer%E2%80%99s-nightmare-spurs-comedy-fundraiser-help-caregivers>